Example:

Sam, 35, dreams of sending his daughter, now 3, abroad for her university education. To work towards this milestone, he decides to set aside $1,000 monthly for 9 years. He wants to stop paying for his premiums when his daughter enters secondary school to focus on other financial commitments. Sam will potentially receive $161,774⁺ to send his daughter to university when she turns 19. That's a 16-year plan – fully customised to his needs.

⁺ The illustrated values use bonus rates assuming an illustrated investment rate of return of 4.75% p.a. As bonus rates are not guaranteed, the actual benefits payable will vary according to the future performance of the participating fund. At 3.25% p.a. illustrated investment rate of return, the maturity value is $139,229.
