KEY FEATURES OF THE ILP SUB-FUND

WHAT ARE YOU INVESTING IN?

- You are investing in an ILP Sub-Fund which seeks to provide regular income and long-term capital growth by feeding into the Underlying Fund domiciled in Singapore which then invests:
 - (i) 30% to 70% of its assets in US Bonds (such as investment grade bonds, high yield bonds, government bonds and/or fixed income collective investment schemes, including but not limited to Eastspring Investments – US High Yield Bond Fund (the “US High Yield Bond”)); and
 - (ii) 30% to 70% of its assets in Asian Bonds (such as investment grade bonds, high yield bonds, government bonds and/or fixed income collective investment schemes, including but not limited to Eastspring Investments – Asian Bond Fund (the “Asian Bond”)).

The Underlying Fund may in addition, at the Investment Manager’s absolute discretion, invest up to 20% of its assets in any other investments such as other fixed income or debt securities, dividend yielding equities, real estate investment trusts and/or collective schemes.

- Distributions are not guaranteed. Distribution payments shall, at the sole discretion of the Manager and/or Prudential Singapore, be determined at the beginning of each financial year or to be made out of either (a) income; or (b) net capital gains; or (c) capital of the Fund or a combination of (a) and/or (b) and/or (c).

The Manager and/or Prudential Singapore may also vary the frequency and/or amount of the distributions made. Any payment of distributions by the Fund may result in an immediate decrease in the net asset value per unit.

Refer to Section 6 – Investment Objective and Section 8 – Distribution Policy for the Fund of the FIB for further information on features of the ILP Sub-Fund.

Investment Strategy

- The ILP Sub-Fund and Underlying Fund share the same investment focus and approach.
- In managing the Underlying Fund, the Investment Manager will first assess the attractiveness of Asian bonds relative to US bonds by looking at their relative credit spreads as well as versus their own history. The Investment Manager also assesses the attractiveness of Asian equities relative to US Dollars denominated bonds. The Investment Manager will then arrive at the final asset allocation of the Underlying Fund after taking into consideration all these factors. The selection of the individual stocks within the Underlying Fund is driven by bottom-up stock ideas.

In deciding the asset allocation of the Underlying Fund, the Investment Manager adopts a valuation-based investment approach and aims to exploit market inefficiency and dispersion of investment returns.

Refer to Section 7 – Investment Focus and Approach of the FIB for further information on Investment Strategy.

KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?

The value of the ILP Sub-Fund may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:

Refer to Section 4 – Risks of the FIB for further information on risks of the ILP Sub-Fund.

Market and Credit Risks

- You are exposed to market risks in Asian, Asia-Pacific and United States markets.
 - The value of your investments may go up and down due to normal market fluctuations in the bond markets in Asia and the United States.
- You are exposed to interest rate and credit risks.
 - The Underlying Fund invests in bonds and fixed income/debt securities which are subject to interest rate fluctuations and credit risks, such as risk of default by issuers or counterparties with which they trade.
- You are exposed to emerging markets risks.
 - The Underlying Fund may invest in emerging markets which involve a greater risk of loss and are more volatile than investing in more developed markets due to, among other factors, greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity, volatility and regulatory risks.
- You are exposed to counterparty risks.
 - The Fund and its underlying funds will be exposed to the credit risk on counterparties with which they trade and any default by such counterparty (for example, due to insolvency) could result in substantial losses to an underlying fund and, in turn, the value of your units.
- You are exposed to currency risks.
 - The Underlying Fund may be denominated in currencies that differ from the currency of the ILP Sub-Fund, and accordingly, fluctuations in the exchange rates of these foreign currencies may affect the value of your units.

Liquidity Risks

- The ILP Sub-Fund is not listed and you can realise your units only on Business Days.
 - There is no ready secondary market for the units in the ILP Sub-Fund. All withdrawal applications should be submitted to the Product Provider.
- You may not be able to perform a withdrawal of units during any period where dealing is suspended.
 - There may be a 10% limit on the number of units that can be realised and converted on a Business Day. Therefore, your realisation request may be deferred to the next Business Day if realisations exceed the limit on that day. Your right to realise units may also be temporarily suspended under certain circumstances.
- You are exposed to liquidity risks of the underlying funds' investments.
 - The Underlying Fund may have investments which have high liquidity risks and may incur substantial losses if they are unable to sell these investments at opportune times or prices.

Refer to Section 15 – Suspension of Dealing of the FIB for further information on suspension of dealing of the ILP Sub-Fund.

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to derivatives risks.
 - The Underlying Fund and its Underlying Entities may use derivative instruments for efficient portfolio management and/or hedging purposes.
- You are exposed to the risks of high yield bonds the Eastspring Investments – US High Yield Bond Fund invests in.
 - Compared to investment grade bonds, high yield bonds are normally lower-rated securities usually offering higher yields to compensate for the reduced creditworthiness or increased risk of default that these securities carry.
- You are exposed to the risk of distributions out of capital
 - Distributions may be sourced from capital from time to time. Such capital distributions represent a return or withdrawal of part of the amount you originally invested and/or capital gains attributable to the original investment and will result in a reduction in the net asset value of the relevant Class and reduce the capital available for future investment and capital growth. Future capital growth may therefore be constrained as a result.
